GLASS OUTLINES CURRENCY PLAN

Administration Bill Will Be Introduced Monday.

WILSON WILL READ MESSAGE

President Intends to Again Appear Personally Before Congress and Read His Communication, After Which the Measure Will Be Presented in Both the House and Senate.

Washington, June 20.—The administration currency bill was made public by Representative Glass, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency. It will be introduced in the house and senate after President Wilson has delivered in person his address to congress on Monday.

An outline of the measure prepared by Mr. Glass describes it as "a basis for legislative action," states that it will be gone over in detail for alterations and sets out that its purpose is to accomplish three principal objects:

Provision of a means for rediscounting commercial paper of specified types.

A basis for elastic notes properly safeguarded.

Machinery for doing foreign banking business.

The measure's essentials remain as they have been outlined from time to time since the president began a study of the subject with house and senate leaders, Secretary McAdoo and other advisers, providing twelve or more federal reserve banks which will rediscount paper, deal in government securities, exchange and conduct government fiscal operations. National banks and such state banks and trust companies as conform to standards would be stockholders of the reserve banks. The government would hold no stock.

The government would control the federal reserve banks entirely through a federal reserve board of seven members in which the banks would have no representation. The board would be composed of the secretary of the treasury, secretary of agriculture, the comptroller of the currency as members ex-officio; four other members would be chosen by the president and confirmed by the senate.

The national bank note circulation would remain undisturbed and no proposal is made in the bill for retiring approximately $700,000,000 2 per cent bonds upon which that note issue now rests. An amendment or separate bill to refund those bonds into 3 per cent bonds may be introduced later.

Reserve Treasury Notes.

In addition to the $700,000,000 existing national bank notes not more than $500,000,000 in what are to be known as federal reserve treasury notes might be issued at the discretion of the federal reserve board solely for the purpose of making advances to the federal reserve banks, which would do no business with the public, deal only with their member banks and receive deposits only from the United States.

While the notes would on their faces purport to be the obligations of the United States they would be required to be secured by a gold reserve of 33 1/3 per cent provided by the federal reserve bank and would be a first and paramount lien on the assets of these banks and would be redeemable in gold on demand of the treasury department of the city of Washington or any federal reserve bank.

Stringent provisions are made against counting any of these notes as a part of bank reserves and the system is guarded against inflation by lodging power with the federal reserve board to exact an interest charge upon treasury notes in order to insure their prompt redemption. The notes are not made legal tender, but would be receivable by the government and every bank of the system at par without exchange.

No change would be made in the protection of other existing notes.

The federal reserve board would require one federal reserve bank to rediscount the paper of another and would establish a rate on discount, not necessarily uniform for all reserve banks, but made with a view to accommodating the commerce of the country and promoting a stable price level.

For recasting the present bank reserve system the bill proposes to transfer the reserves from national banks in the present reserve and central reserve cities to federal reserve banks carrying the process of transfer over thirty-eight months to avoid shock to market conditions.

TWO PERISH IN HOTEL FIRE

Five Others Injured in Extensive Blaze at Chico, Cal.

Chico, Cal., June 20.—Two men were burned to death and five seriously injured by a fire which threatened to destroy the great lumber yards of the Diamond Match company near here.

The fire started in a hotel, Flanders Loomis, father of the proprietor, and Bert Sullinger, an employee, were the ones killed.

AGENT TELLS OF SUGAR CAMPAIGN

Federal Company Took Steps to Remove Duty.

COMMITTEE TAKES RECESS

Senate Lobby Probers Adjourn to Meet at Call of the Chair After Listening to Frank C. Lowry Describe Methods of His Concern to Have Sugar Placed on the Free List.

Washington, June 20.—The senate committee in pursuit of the "lobby" turned over a new leaf in the story of sugar and heard the details of the nationwide campaign the advocates of free sugar made to remove the duty on that article. Frank C. Lowry, sales agent of the Federal Sugar Refining company, secretary and organizer of the "committee" of wholesale grocers, wrote the free sugar chapter for the committee.

The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific board of directors, had not been summoned to appear and his subpoena may not be served until the inquiry is taken up again.

Lowry's examination featured the closing session of the committee. He told of his attempt to accelerate public opinion and to persuade congressmen and senators and spoke frankly of his efforts in the national campaign of last fall. He said he furnished most of the sugar information which appeared in the Democratic campaign text book, and that he had wired, urging every member of the resolutions committee at the Baltimore convention to put a free sugar plank in the Democratic platform.

The witness was on the stand for four hours and when he left he promised to produce any correspondence in his files relating to the organization of the grocers' committee or his free sugar campaign.

Lowry testified that he had conducted his fight solely for the Federal company and that other refiners had not figured in it. He thought the expenses had amounted to about $25,000 in four years, exclusive of his salary and commission, as sales agent, amounting to about $68,000 in that period. He got nothing for his tariff work, he said.

After many questions by Senator Cummins the witness agreed that although all the sugar refiners did not seem to favor free sugar they would benefit only in a less degree than the Federal by a reduction in duty. Lowry said, however, that an official of the American Sugar Refining company, the so-called "trust," had told him that free sugar "would put us out of business."

MAY ABANDON RATE CASES

Minnesota Roads Likely to Give Lower Figures.

St. Paul, June 20.—Semi-authoritative information received at the capital indicates that the Minnesota railroads will at once put into effect the rates declared valid by the United States supreme court.

This is substantiated by the recent activity in the Great Northern general offices. A large force of extra clerks has been put at work in the freight and passenger traffic bureaus and it is generally understood that they are figuring out new schedules to comply with the law.

While local railroad officials profess ignorance as to what the policy of the roads will be it is understood that assurances have been given the state departments interested that no further action in the courts will be taken.

Entombed Miners Rescued.

Dueseldorf, Germany, June 20.—Rescuers saved the lives of the fifteen miners who were imprisoned at Lintorf by the caving in of the shaft of a coal mine.

ENGINEER ACQUITTED.

Hornell, N. Y., June 20.—William H. Schroeder, an engineer of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter in connection with the wreck at Corning July 4, when forty passengers were killed.

GOMPERS APPEAL GRANTED

United States Supreme Court Will Review Contempt.

Washington, June 20.—Chief Justice White granted an appeal to the supreme court for Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, convicted of contempt of court in the noted Buck's stove and range case. The appeal will be heard after October.

GOVERNOR HUNT.

Arizona Executive Repeives Five Murderers.

REPRIEVES FIVE MURDERERS

Governor of Arizona to Leave Their Fate to Bill to Be Voted On.

Phoenix, Ariz., June 20.—Five murderers, all of whom were to have been hanged today, were reprieved by Governor Hunt until Dec. 19, 1914.

Governor Hunt will leave it to the people of the state to say whether the men shall die, according to the way they vote on the recently initiated bill to abolish capital punishment.

The measure will be voted on in November, 1914.

THIRTEEN KILLED IN TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Confusion of Orders Results in Cars Colliding.

Vallejo, Cal., June 20.—A confusion of orders that may never be explained brought death to thirteen persons when two electric trains met head on near here while running at high speed. Eleven were instantly killed, two died within a short time and three of the thirty or more injured persons are hurt fatally.

The single car of the southbound train and the first car of the northbound were telescoped and not a person aboard either car escaped injury.

The conductor on one of the trains, who took orders by telephone from the dispatcher just before the accident, is among those probably fatally injured.

The wreckage was heaped high on the roadbed after the crash. It was several hours before the last of the victims was removed. A house moving outfit and the appliances of the Vallejo fire department were needed to liberate them.

Nearly all of the killed or injured were residents of Vallejo and vicinity.

SUPERIOR MAYOR IN FIGHT

Tries to Arrest Socialist, Leader of Recall Movement.

Superior, Wis., June 20.—Mayor Silver Joe Konkell tried to arrest Ellis B. Harris, recent Socialist candidate for congress in this district, while Harris was in the midst of a trade against him in a downtown barber shop. Harris resisted. The mayor was insistent. Harris shook him off, then struck him.

The two clinched and were having a rough and tumble cuffle when the mayor saw a policeman and called him to his assistance. With the officer's aid Harris was subdued and taken to the police station.

The clash is the result of a recall movement started by the Socialists against Mayor Konkell. They charge he has been lax in enforcing the law and has permitted disorderly resorts to spread over the city.

CHECKS ORIENTAL INVASION

New Regulation Made Against Their Admission.

Washington, June 20.—To check further complication of Pacific coast problems by unrestrained admission of Hindus and the Malay races of Asia to continental United States from the American insular possessions Secretary of Labor Wilson made an amendment to the immigration regulations.

It authorizes officials at mainland ports "to reject aliens coming from the insular possessions unless it should appear that at the time of entry thereto they were not members of the excluded classes so likely to become public charges."

Crew of Thirty-six Saved.

San Francisco, June 20.—Wireless messages received from the liner Admiral Farragut reported the sinking of the steam lumber schooner Riverside off Cape Mendocino, on a dangerous stretch of the Northern California coast. The crew of thirty-six was taken off by the boats of the Farragut and a tug from Eureka, Cal., summoned by wireless.

STATE RIGHTS A DISTURBING FACT

Tariff and Currency Problems Also Puzzle Democrats.

BOTHERED BY PATRONAGE.

Irk some Newspaper Publicity Law Likely to Be Amended—Deadlock Over Bill Reducing Members of Board of Soldiers' Homes—Bryan and Daniels in Morality Campaign.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 20.—[Special.]—Railroad and corporation legislation has been greatly complicated by recent supreme court decisions, especially for the Democratic majority. The decisions give more power to the states, and state rights have always been a Democratic tenet. To legislate to take the power from the states and lodge it with the federal government is scarcely to be expected in a Democratic congress. And yet it is asserted that governmental control is about the only practical and comprehensive method of regulating common carriers.

Besides the tariff, which has caused trouble, and the currency, which has yet to make more trouble, there are the corporation and railroad problems, which really make the great victory of 1912 almost as bad as defeat. Added to these is the distribution of patronage, and, judging from what every Democrat who has anything to do with that says, it appears that it proves the most annoying trouble of all. Power has its responsibilities and cares and troubles as the Democrats well know.

May Amend the Law.

After a long period the supreme court decided the Barnhart-Bourne law, relating to newspapers and periodicals, constitutional. The law was designed to make publishers give publicity as to the ownership and editorial control of their papers. Now that it has been declared constitutional it is expected that it will be amended in some particulars so as to make it effective, but less irksome to the publishers.

Deadlocks on Minor Matters.

Not since the last Democratic tariff bill was passed has there been a deadlock between the senate and house on anything of great importance. There have been deadlocks such as have existed for several weeks in this congress, but they have been about trivial matters or differences over amounts in appropriation bills. The most recent deadlock was over reducing the number of members of the board of soldiers' homes, who serve only for expenses and daily pay when at work, which is not often.

Talking For Morality.

A feature of the present administration is that several cabinet officers talk morality when occasion offers. Secretary Bryan takes the lead and speaks for the moral uplift in all directions whenever the occasion will permit. Secretary Daniels is another who talks along the same line. The navy secretary has frequent opportunities to talk to the officers and men of the navy, and he never fails to impress upon them the better results that accrue from leading temperate and clean lives.

Long Look Ahead.

Congressman Witherspoon of Mississippi sought an opportunity to visit his home in the sunny south recently, saying that he took the present period of house vacation because he did not expect to get another opportunity to leave Washington until the Christmas holidays. He fears there will be a continuous session of congress all summer and through the fall.

Other members are as apprehensive of a continuous session, more particularly if currency legislation is to be considered. So far as possible, all other legislation has been discouraged by the Democratic leaders, although the committees have been taking up several bills referred to them.

An Opinion by Williams.

The Republicans of the senate were trying to make something of an appointment of an editor in Ohio, where it was shown the member of congress making the appointment wanted the editor to run a "straight Democratic paper."

John Sharp Williams took a hand in the discussion. "This resolution," he said, "is pure political playboy of the peanut variety. Its hypocrisy is sublime, coming from the Republican party, which for fifty-three years has been rewarding past, present and hoped for political service with post-offices."

"How Did You Like It?"

Senator Page of Vermont had to answer many questions by his colleagues after it became known that he had taken a trip in a naval ship at Annapolis. "How did you like it?" and "What were your sensations?" were the most frequent questions put to him. Senator Page enjoyed the trip.

Surface For Talbot.

Congressman Talbot was in Annapolis at the time Senator Page made his flight and was told that he could take the ride if he so desired. "No," said the Maryland man, "I guess not. I have been invited to go down in a submarine and I have been invited to go up in an airship. But I don't want to go up or down. The plain surface is good enough for me."

CHARLES H. HYDE.

New York Court Frees Him on Bribery Charge.

VOIDS HYDE'S CONVICTION

Former New York City Chamberlain Set Free by High Court.

New York, June 20.—The conviction of Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, of bribery by a jury in the supreme court was overridden by the appellate division of the supreme court.

In a decision handed down Hyde's conviction was declared to have been due to an erroneous ruling of the trial court and the district attorney was directed to have him discharged from custody and the indictment against him dismissed. Hyde is out on bail.

MANIAC IS FATALLY INJURED AT RACES

Royalty Sees Man Emulate Miss Davison's Feat.

Ascot, Eng., June 20.—Harold Hewitt, fifty years old, graduate of Harrow and Cambridge, is dying in a hospital from injuries he received in the attempt to emulate the example of Miss Emily W. Davison, who was killed beneath the hoofs of the king's horse in the Derby. Hewitt was operated on in the morning hope of saving his life, but he still is unconscious. The base of his skull was fractured.

According to the Ascot police Hewitt was not connected with the suffragettes, but was of unclouded mind and of a type peculiarly liable to be carried away by the initiative impulse. King George and Queen Mary, former King Manuel of Portugal, the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden, the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, and Princess Patricia and a number of lesser royalties were watching the race from the royal stand.

Hewitt, the police say, is possessed of independent means. He had shown evidences of religious mania. A Bible was found on him, the fly leaves of which were full of quotations. Also, he had a diary in which the last entry was made a few hours before his mad act.

"DRYS" GAINING IN ILLINOIS

Legislature Passes Two Bills Restricting Liquor Traffic.

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—The "drys" won signal victories in the Illinois legislature when the senate passed two measures restricting saloons in cities.

One measure prohibits saloons within four miles of the University of Illinois and, as that institution is practically midway between Urbana and Champaign, saloons in both cities are threatened.

The other enactment, known as "the residence district bill," was fought bitterly, especially by saloon interests of Chicago.

VAUGHN CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Medical Association Picks Atlantic City for Next Meeting.

Minneapolis, June 20.—In a neck and neck race for the highest honor that can be paid a member of the medical profession in this country Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical college of the University of Michigan, was elected president of the American Medical association for the year beginning June 15, 1914.

Atlantic City, N. J., was selected for the next meeting place, winning out over Louisville, Ky., the only other real contender. Atlanta, Ga., Chicago, Washington, New Orleans and New York issued invitations but were not in the running.

JAP PORTER KILLS BURGLAR

Commits Suicide When Police Seek to Question Him.

Los Angeles, June 20.—Taro Awamura, a Japanese porter in a lodging house, shot and instantly killed a burglar whom he surprised in the place, then committed suicide when the police sought to question him.

Papers found among his effects led the police to believe that Awamura had been engaged in illegal immigration traffic.

CLEAR BRITISH MINISTERS

House of Commons Finds Them Guiltless of Corruption.

London, June 20.—"Resolved, that this house, after hearing the statement of the attorney general and the chancellor of the exchequer in reference to their purchase of shares in the Marconi company of America, accepts their expression of regret that such purchases were made and repudiates the charges of corruption against the ministers, which have been proved to be false."

With this substitute motion, proposed by Sir William Ryland Dent Adkins, adopted by a vote of 346 to 268, the house of commons officially closed the Marconi affair.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED.

Berlin, June 20.—Two German airmen were killed at the Johannisthal aerodrome. Aviator Krafft, carrying a passenger named Gerbitz, had ascended with the intention of making a two hours' flight. The biplane suddenly turned a somersault at a height of 100 feet, throwing its passengers to the ground, dead.

HARVESTER TRUST HEARING

Former Partner of Late J. P. Morgan Appears for Defense in Suit at Chicago to Dissolve International Harvester Company—Witness Declares Government Has Been Very Discourteous to Him.

Chicago, June 20.—When George W. Perkins, former partner of the late J. P. Morgan, took the witness stand for the defense in the International Harvester company anti-trust hearing he was warned by Attorney Grosvenor, representing the government, that conditions under which he testified did not give him immunity from further prosecution.

"You have been subpoenaed by Edgar A. Hancock of the International Harvester company," said Attorney Grosvenor. "I wish to inform you that your testimony here does not give you immunity from any further prosecution."

"In reply I will say that I was very much surprised that I was not subpoenaed by the government of its own volition," said Mr. Perkins. "But you recognize that your testimony here is of your own volition and entitles you to no immunity?" persisted the government lawyer.

"I recognize that the government has been very discourteous to me thus far," responded the witness warmly, and Attorney McHugh of the defense began direct examination.

After telling of his investigation of the differences between agricultural methods in the United States and Europe Mr. Perkins testified:

"In June, 1902, I had a talk with Cyrus McCormick as to the possibilities of the European field for the sale of harvester machinery and also as to the possibility of financing the harvester company in connection with pushing its sales in this field. The possibility of developing the harvester business in Asia as well as in Europe I think also developed in my mind at that time."

Milwaukee Purchase Aired.

Questions here changed to the Milwaukee harvester purchase. "Who was back of this purchase?" Mr. Morgan was back of this purchase and he alone. Neither Cyrus McCormick nor any of the McCormicks had anything to do with it, except to advance as a temporary loan to Mr. Morgan the $100,000 which was used in the purchase of the option on the sale of the company.

"Please state the basis on which the International Harvester company was organized."

"It was strictly a cash basis. There was no watered stock. Everything was dollar for dollar on actual values. There was no syndicate in connection with the organization."

With this answer the direct examination was concluded and Attorney Grosvenor began cross-examination. "You say you did not care how much business was controlled by any one company?"

"At last you seem to have hit it exactly," replied Mr. Perkins. "At last you seem to grasp the situation. I wanted to go into the foreign field strong. Whether it was one company or a dozen made no difference. The point was we had to have immense capital. We had to have capital to educate the people to use the machines before any of them were purchased."

"It was not a proposition that could have been gone into on a small scale. Nor on a small scale would it have been one on which I wanted to waste my time."

POWER TO SUSPEND RATES

Senate Committee Gives President Tariff Club.

Washington, June 20.—An amendment to the Underwood tariff bill adopted by the majority members of the senate finance committee would give the president authority to suspend certain rates in the proposed law and to proclaim special rates against nations which discriminate against products of the United States.

The amendment is appended to the clause giving the president authority to negotiate reciprocity agreements with other nations and in some respects resembles the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law eliminated in the house bill.

The Black Cat at Sea.

About twenty years ago, when I was living in north China, the British squadron, then in far eastern waters, was steaming out of the port of Chefoo when a little black cat fell overboard from H. M. S. Wanderer. At once the ship stopped, signaled to its consort "Cat overboard," and the entire squadron came to a standstill. A boat put out from the Wanderer and rescued puss, who was swimming for dear life after the ship. The officer who told me the story said the sailors would have been furious if the little cat had not been saved, for not only was she a great pet, but they firmly believed disaster would follow if a black cat was allowed to drown.—London Mail.

WORLDWIDE USE OF FINGER PRINTS

System Should Be Universal,
Says Argentine Expert.

NOT ONLY FOR CRIMINALS.

Dr. Vucetich, Who Perfected Modern System of Identification, Would Extend Its Use to Include Every Individual—Would Prove Invaluable in Many Cases, He Asserts.

Every large city should have a great central department of identification, not merely for criminals, but for every one of its inhabitants, in the opinion of Dr. Juan Vucetich, chief of the bureau of identification of the province of Buenos Aires and of the Argentine war department, who is now in this country.

Dr. Vucetich is the originator of the first complete system of finger print identification, and he asserts that it is his system, with modifications, which is in use throughout the world today. He says that even Bertillon, who applied anthropometry to criminal identification, has adopted his system in spite of the fact that Bertillon two years after Dr. Vucetich had successfully inaugurated his own system in the city of La Plata, Argentina, said that a system of finger print identification was impracticable.

Dr. Vucetich asserted that the American idea in regard to the system of identification was all wrong. We regard it as stamping us as criminals to have a complete identification of ourselves in existence, he said.

He pointed out that the description of every citizen of Buenos Aires was recorded on the government records and that in the office of the minister of war and the minister of the interior there were on file 2,000,000 identifications, which were used not necessarily for criminal, but for military and political purposes.

System of Identification.

"I invented my system of identification twenty-five years ago," said Dr. Vucetich in giving an outline of his life work. "At that time I was chief of the bureau of identification in La Plata, Argentina. It had been recommended to me that I study the various systems of identification in use and adopt the best. I discovered there was no system in existence but what was deficient. There arose instances to which none would respond. What interested me most was Bertillon's anthropometric system. I found it was not sufficient. At that time a magazine, the French Revue Scientifique, fell into my hands. That was on the 2d of May, 1891. It contained an article on 'Papillary Lines in the Hands,' in which the author went on to show that these varied in different persons. The article referred to some studies Mr. Galton of London had made, which I believe went to prove that the differences were due to heredity. Galton drew his conclusions from the use of only the finger and the thumb. I got the idea of applying the test to all the fingers of the hand.

"I had many criminals at my disposal. I started in using printer's ink to get my impressions. Here," added Dr. Vucetich, producing a big card, "is the first finger print identification made in the world. You see it is dated Sept. 1, 1891." The first man so identified was a prisoner in La Plata named Francisco Carabulo. I kept up my experimenting until in 1897 I was able to announce that I had perfected my system. Previous to that time, however, my finger prints had thousands of times proved their efficiency.

First to Adopt It.

"As early as 1903 I was in communication with Lombroso, the celebrated Italian criminologist, and he made reference to my system in some of his papers. The Argentine government was the first to adopt my system, and its example was almost immediately followed by the other South American countries. Since then almost every country in the world has adopted it in some form or other.

"I am surprised and somewhat disappointed to find here that identification seems to be regarded altogether from the point of view of the criminal—that is to say, an ordinary man appears to think it a disgrace to be on record on an identification card. If your people could realize what an assistance this has been to us in Buenos Aires in other than criminal matters, you would clamor for it. I understand that your morgues are sometimes filled with unidentified dead, and that not infrequently bodies brought there are never identified, but are buried in a potter's field. Perhaps more than one of those mysterious disappearances, which I understand are frequently chronicled in your newspapers, might be explained if you had on hand the means of identification we possess in Buenos Aires."

IF WE DENY HIM HE WILL DENY US

Reputation of Christ Is a Growing Sin, Says Pastor Russell.

Faith is Waning—Learned and Rich Already Faithless—The Common People Rapidly Becoming So—The Rich Substitute Pleasures—The Poor Have No Substitute—Together the Ingrating of Hopelessness With Intelligence Means Anarchy—Old Creeds No Longer Endurable—The Gospel of the Kingdom the Only Hope.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Dallas, Texas, June 8.—Pastor C. T. Russell spoke twice here today. We report his discourse to Bible Students. The text was: "If we deny Him, He will deny us." (2 Timothy 2:12.) He said:

Great riches have come to the world within the past sixty years, especially to Europe and America. Instead of the hearts of the prosperous uplifting with gratitude to God, the tendency seems to be away from God, and especially away from His Son and from all thought of a share in His redemptive work, or a need for it. Business activities and prosperity have dwarfed the prospects of Messiah's Kingdom.

But with the growth of wealth have come sinner and more reasonable views of justice. The folly of accumulating money for others to squander has impressed itself. The rich of Europe and America are giving themselves more leisure in the prime of life, leaving opportunity for others to take their places in the commercial world.

None could wish that our great business men become sluggards. Our wish should be that their mature years might be gratuitously devoted to the promotion of philanthropic plans for the aid of the lower classes. Doubtless millions of money would flow into such hands for disbursement along broadly economic lines.

There is room for such benevolences in every land, but especially in countries under British and American control, where commercialism absorbs some of the ablest talent, leaving comparatively little opportunity for the less progressive. All over Great Britain and in nearly every state of the Union there are splendid opportunities for such work. Then there are the teeming millions of India, existing under conditions not fit for a good dog.

These are our brethren of the one blood, as St. Paul declares. None dispute the necessities of the case. The sympathetic are appalled at the money and labor necessary to cope with conditions. Heaven looks with interest to note how our showers of blessings affect our hearts.

The Responsibility of Knowledge and Riches.

Amongst the rich are many noble Christian hearts in perplexity as to what to do with their wealth. The Pastor's suggestions are based upon his observations in all parts of the world. He thinks that the Lord is pouring out wealth upon professed Christians to test them. From this viewpoint, the world is under Divine inspection, and God seems to be warning the prosperous that their present course is not wise.

Let us make no mistake, said the speaker earnestly. Pleasure-seeking is the trend of the whole world. God is being forgotten by both poor and rich, and the end of the lane is near—"a time of trouble such as never was."

With the awakening of true Christianity has come a substitute—Churchianity. For years Christian faith has been declining, under the attacks of Higher Criticism and Evolution, and the neutralizing influence of love of pleasure. One Bible doctrine after another has been dropped, while Churchianity has come forward as a form of godliness, but destitute of power.

Apparently the modern attempt to ignore doctrine has been a great mistake, which is now bearing its legitimate fruit in that very few Christians know definitely what the Bible teaches. The effect on the rising generation is disastrous. Seeing the doctrines of all denominations discredited, they perceive that the Bible is classed with the creeds. This is the alarming mistake. The sooner we are rid of our creeds, the better. But if we lose the Bible, are we not losing the very foundation of faith and hope beyond the present?

The Loss Is Greater to Some.

The average man needs the Gospel Message of hope in order to make the trials and sorrows of life endurable. In order that these may so operate as to serve as lessons in character-development and produce a desire to be acceptable to his Creator, and to attain everlasting life.

The Pastor trusts that ministers may be encouraged to proclaim the Gospel of Hope beyond the grave—for the saintly hope of joint-heirship with Christ in His Kingdom, and for the remainder of mankind a hope that they will receive only just punishment for sins proportionate to their wilfulness, and that the Lord's gracious arrangement is to grant all an opportunity of restoration to human perfection in a world-wide Eden—brought about by the Messianic Kingdom, which is even at the door.

The Demure Thing.
Edith—You haven't seen my engagement ring yet, have you? Marie—I don't know, dear. Who's the man?—Boston Transcript.

The beginning of wisdom is not in the mind, but in the heart.—Abbott.

Women Shouldn't Smoke.

Lord Methuen of England says women should not smoke, the reason being that they haven't the same sense of proportion as men. When a woman begins smoking, he says, she doesn't know when to stop.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots, How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advt.

PETER L. NEWMAN TAKES THE STAND

Testifies as to His Part in the Sjogren Case—Case Probably Concluded Saturday

THE TESTIMONY ON THURSDAY

T. E. Latemer, State Secretary of the Socialist Party, Relates Crosby Experience

After the recess taken at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, Teodor Sjogren resumed the stand. He related how he was made to step in the automobile at Crosby and was driven along the Deerwood road to Brainerd. The occupants fired guns and shots flew past his ear.

The party arrived at Brainerd and went to the Spalding hotel and seated in one of the private dining rooms enjoyed a good supper. This was about eleven o'clock at night. Sjogren drank a couple of bottles of beer.

Then all the defendants left him except Payne.

Payne and Sjogren walked to the City hotel and sat around a while and talked with several people. They went to the Depot lunch room and Sjogren and Payne had a lunch, Sjogren paying for it. Then they went to the depot and waited for the four o'clock passenger train.

Payne told Sjogren to buy a ticket for Duluth. He did so. Payne accompanied Sjogren to Deerwood and there left him. As the train stopped at Deerwood Sjogren talked with some of his friends from the platform of the train.

From Deerwood Sjogren continued on his way to Duluth and then on to Michigan. This completed the recital of Sjogren.

The two friends who had been referred to by Sjogren in parts of this recital testified how he had been taken in the car.

T. E. Latemer, of Minneapolis, state secretary of the socialist party took the stand and said the socialist party was not interested in the case, but that he was concerned in it only

TWO CENT FARE COMING SOON

Special to Dispatch:

St. Paul, Minn., June 20—At a meeting of the state railroad warehouse commission this morning railroad presidents and attorneys agreed to establish as soon as possible the state rates held valid by the supreme court of the United States, thus ending all talk of further litigation on the part of the roads. The rates include the two cent passenger fare law and the commodity and merchandise freight schedules.

as a private citizen. The day before the alleged kidnapping, said Mr. Latemer, Mr. Newman had made threats to him and said it was a good thing that Latemer and wife were to leave town.

The City hotel clerk, Guy Peters, testified that Payne and Sjogren had gone on the four o'clock morning train.

The state is expected to have one more witness Friday morning and then the defense will present its side of the case. It is believed the case will be finished by Saturday evening.

This morning in district court Mrs. T. E. Latemer of Minneapolis, and Adam Saari, of Crosby testified. That concluded the state's case.

Peter L. Newman then took the stand and gave his version of the case, a review of whose testimony will be printed tomorrow.

DEERWOOD GETS READY FOR PICNIC

Saturday, June 21, Brainerd Shop Picnic, Will be a Gala Event in History of Town

THE BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS

Northern Pacific Railway has Many Ore Cars on Sidings Ready for Use Shipping

Deerwood, Minn., June 20—Deerwood is making commendable efforts to entertain the large crowd of Northern Pacific railway shop picnickers who will visit its hospitable town on Saturday, June 21. A large pavilion has been built in the park, Peter Brand being the contractor.

Citizens are working on the ball park so as to get these grounds in good shape for the shop picnic baseball game. The Brainerd City band will accompany the excursionists who will come on two trains. In addition there will be many other Brainerd people who will take the regular trains to enjoy the picnic at Deerwood.

Sam Redin passed away, death being due to cancer of the liver. The funeral was largely attended.

Charles Oberg has bought a Westcott automobile.

At the siding in the gravel pit west of Deerwood are 45 ore cars and on the Oreland branch of the Cuyuna Northern railway are 60 cars, which shows that the Northern Pacific railway is providing for the prompt shipment of ore.

Peter Brand has the contract to erect the $6,000 bungalow for John H. Hill and one of about equal value for Primus D. Kreitter.

B. Magoffin, Jr., is having his residence enlarged. Contractor Peter Brand doing the work.

Cuyler Adams and William A. White have building operations in progress on their property. Judge Vinje's house is being remodeled.

Carpenters are in demand in Deerwood.

A heavy rain almost deluged the streets on Wednesday.

Many Deerwood people attended the Sunday school convention in Brainerd and all report a most profitable time. The addresses delivered were most helpful.

STOCK TRAIN APPRECIATED

Value of the Northern Pacific Demonstration Train to Dairying Interests Unquestionable

The value of the Northern Pacific stock train to the dairying interests of this section of the state, (meaning northern Minnesota) is unquestionable, according to L.B. Arnold of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad who has returned from Bemidji where he left the train after visiting Cromwell, McGregor, Pine River, Backus, LaPorte and Guthrie, says the Duluth News Tribune.

"The train was thoroughly appreciated by the farmers in the vicinity of the towns visited," said Mr. Arnold, "and I believe that the talks will bring excellent results in more scientific methods of breeding and rotation of crops. At Bemidji the train was in competition with the editorial association and Buffalo Bill's show but there was a good attendance, nevertheless."

"The agricultural men on the train were surprised at Backus where they found a valuable Guernsey bull, a relative of the bull carried on the train, that was offered for $100 apparently without takers. The bull is easily worth $250. I hope that the trip will be repeated next year and feel sure that splendid progress will be noticed by the men from the state college."

COMMUNICATION

Brainerd, Minn., June 18, 1913. On behalf of Pine City Lodge 116, Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Shipbuilders of America, affiliated with the Central Trades and Labor council, we wish to protest against the action of those members of the city council whose vote refused the use of the streets to the committee delegated by the assembly for that purpose.

We feel that the council favored the Park board without even taking a second thought of the welfare of labor in this city.

We are trying to have a hall that will be a credit to the city of Brainerd and also the laboring class, but I guess we will have to get "Max Zimmerman" to secure the streets for us.

We hope in the future the council will be a little bit more considerate of our welfare as we have made labor worth about $121,000 in our past month in this city.

A. WITAM, L. E. BEDAL, H. ANDERSON, Committee.

$50 Reward

Fifty dollars ($50) reward will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person shooting insulators on our high tension pole line in the vicinity of Brainerd.

MRS. M. SMADES PASSES AWAY

Sister of John C. Barber, Died of Paralysis Early Friday Morning at Hospital

Mrs. Marion Smades, aged 76, of Minneapolis, sister of John C. Barber, president of the Standard Car Truck Co., of Chicago, died this morning at 2:30 at a local hospital, death being due to paralysis.

She had been the guest of her brother, Mr. Barber, at his summer home on Nokay lake.

She leaves three sons, Myron and Joseph Smades of Minneapolis, and John Smades of Springfield, Mo., and a daughter, Miss Nellie Smades, of Minneapolis.

She was a kindly lady, admired for her gentle ways and she made many friends in Brainerd. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church. Solicitous of everyone's welfare, she took a keen interest in the daily life of her family and brother. She appeared to be in the best of health when she stepped from the train but a short time ago and was taken in her brother's auto to his charming summer home at Nokay lake. The many improvements he had made there greatly interested her and it was believed that the sojourn at the lake would greatly benefit her.

She was suddenly stricken with apoplexy and was then removed to a local hospital where she lingered for days, her true Christian spirit meeting the pain and suffering with fortitude. The end came softly and peacefully.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barber extend their deepest sympathy to them in their hour of bereavement.

The remains will be conveyed to Minneapolis. The funeral will be private, taking place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from 715 Sixth avenue north, Minneapolis.

Cullen-Ingram

A Spokane, Wash., paper gives details of the marriage of F. J. Cullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Cullen, of this city, to Miss Ingram. The article reads:

The wedding of Miss Lucile Ingram and F. J. Cullen will take place Tuesday morning, June 17, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. J. Ingram, 1208 Thirteenth avenue. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served for 20 guests. The young people will take a two weeks' honeymoon trip to the coast.

In honor of Miss Ingram, Mrs. J. Goldstein will entertain at a theatre party Saturday afternoon. Sixteen have been invited to the event, which will be concluded with tea at Daventports.

Miss Gladys DeReemer entertained at a pretty affair Thursday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. T. E. Hoxsey, 703 Cleveland avenue. The affair was a "heart" party and was in honor of Miss Ingram. Hearts was played during the afternoon, honors going to Mrs. Richard Matlack and Miss Ruth Fisher.

The guests were: Miss Lucile Ingram, Miss Sylvia Mudgett, Mrs. J. W. Fancy, Mrs. Richard Matlack, Miss Tina Apfel, Mrs. Chester K. Burrows, Miss Marie James, Mrs. Charles Jasper, Miss Sara Van Winkel, Miss Marion Howell, Miss Elsie Howell, Miss Rachel Hutchinson, Miss Ethelyn Grimmer, Mrs. Ambrose Codd, Miss Ruth Fisher, Miss Ida Posey, Mrs. C. J. Ingram, Mrs. T. J. Hoxsey and Miss Gladys DeReemer.

BUILDING NEWS OF IRONTON

Cement Sidewalks Ordered Laid—Hobart Ellingson Erecting Handsome Bungalow

Iron-ton, Minn., June 21—Aitkin beat Iron-ton Sunday by the score of 13 to 8.

Some delay has been experienced in the construction of waterworks. Plans were submitted to Duluth people and they designated the center of the street for laying water mains and sewer pipes. The village council wants them laid in the alleys.

Twelve-foot cement walks are to be laid on the principal business streets of the village.

The coats are of light tan duck, the hats of white canvas, the canes of silver metal. All of these can be secured from the By & Peterson store.

The badges and buttons have been received by H. A. Carmichael and will probably be placed at the water and light board offices or By & Peterson's for distribution.

BASEBALL NEWS

St. Joe-Deekerts of Minneapolis Play Brainerd Here on Sunday, June 22

The St. Joe-Deekerts, of Minneapolis, one of the fastest teams in professional ball circles, are scheduled to play Brainerd at the Koering grounds on Sunday afternoon, June 22.

The St. Joe-Deekerts, by the way, are one of the few teams in independent baseball who own their own grounds. When they play at Brainerd Sunday, the Ballards will be using their grounds in Minneapolis.

Brainerd will be strengthened for Sunday's game. Ed. Lauerman, one of the fastest first basemen in this section and who starred in that position with Little Falls last year, will be on the initial bag.

Manager Tom Considine has been negotiating with Clarence Lovdahl, of Crosby, to play left field. Lovdahl is a most consistent hitter and in last year's Central Minnesota baseball association play scored up high in the percentages. He is a fine fielder and lets nothing go by in his part of the garden.

Sig Sheffo, who made such a hit with the fans Sunday, June 8, will be in center field. Sheffo has a speedy gait and covers territory well and it's over the fence with the ball whenever he hits it on the nose.

As far as known, Sunday's lineup will be Bud Roderick catcher, Cook pitcher, Lauerman first base, Larson second base, Erickson shortstop, Templeton third base, Lovdahl left field, Sheffo center field, Bush right field. The Drummers play the M. & I. clerks Saturday afternoon at the Koering grounds.

E. J. Quinn, of Minneapolis, said everybody down there is just wild about the playing of his fellow drummers in Brainerd. He said Higbee's slide for home plate will go down in history linked with the name of Kelly.

STARES DEATH IN FACE FOR HOURS

Ed. Clark Buried 2 1/2 Hours in Sewer Trench at Crosby and is Rescued by

50 MEN SHOVELING HIM OUT

Hale's Second Addition to Crosby is Platted to the Northeast Corner of Village

Crosby, Minn., June 20.—Buried in a caving sewer trench Ed. Clark was imprisoned 2 1/2 hours while 50 men worked with feverish haste to rescue him. Shovelers worked in detachments and when the man was eventually pulled out he was paralyzed from his waist down. He was taken to a hospital where it is believed he will recover.

At a meeting of the village council last night the plat of Hale's second addition to Crosby was accepted. The new addition is situated at the northeast corner of the town, contains 96 lots and extends the platted portion of the village from Sixth street north to the county road.

Additional cement walks are to be constructed in Crosby. Trustees Humphrey, Gallagher and Lerkovitz being appointed a committee to investigate and report.

Maguire Brothers, the Lovdahl Drug company, P. Frenette and W. J. Sullivan have been granted licenses by the council to sell cigarettes.

The sum of $100 has been appropriated by the council for the purpose of improving the streets and to otherwise make ready for the Fourth of July celebration.

Honeybees.

In the year 1638 the first hive bees or honeybees were brought across the ocean to this country. They were black bees, sometimes called brown bees and also German bees. These gradually spread over the land, aided by later importations to different parts, and held undivided possession for more than 200 years, when in 1859 the first Italians were introduced. Since then a number of other races have come, but the great majority of bees owned in this country are at the present time Italians or a cross between Italians and blacks, with perhaps a few of unadmixed black blood.—Country Gentleman.

SAVES BOY'S LIFE BY TUBE MIRACLE

New York Surgeon Performs Astounding Feat.

CASE ENTIRELY HOPELESS.

Dr. Kenyon, Lecturer at Fordham Hospital, New York City, by Means of Ingenious Arrangement Preserves Child's Punctured Lung by Sending Air Into Uninjured Member Alone.

By a device so unusual that it seemed to the surgeons and physicians who witnessed it more like a feat of legerdemain than one of the most modern operations, Dr. James H. Kenyon of New York City sustained the life of a supposedly fatally injured boy for two weeks and brought him through to what is now predicted will be a complete recovery.

The child is John Burkert, seven years old, of 597 East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, New York City.

A fortnight ago the boy was run down by a team and was taken to Fordham hospital in a dying condition.

The house surgeon who examined the small patient said that he was in need of instant attention and hurried him into an operating room for examination.

Only Few Minutes to Live.

A glance was sufficient to tell them that the case, from their point of view, was hopeless. The wheels of the heavy wagon had crushed in the little fellow's breast, breaking the collar bone and driving a fractured rib in at such an angle that it had punctured one of the lungs. The surgeons busied themselves doing the few things that suggested, but agreed that within ten minutes the boy would be dead.

Just then a group of surgeons and physicians who had been attending a clinic at Fordham university passed through the hospital, and Dr. Kenyon, who had been giving the lecture, was among them. He entered the operating room, looked at the boy and then turned to the surgeons.

"Bring me a quart bottle and some glass tubes," he remarked coolly.

As attendants ran to carry out the order and the astonished surgeons grouped themselves around Dr. Kenyon slipped into a surgeon's apron and gloves. As soon as the appliances arrived he filled the bottle half full of water and inserted one of the glass tubes in such a fashion that its lower end remained in the water.

One Lung Does Work.

Dr. Kenyon made an incision between the fourth and fifth ribs, lifting the broken rib out of the lung in which it was imbedded and inserting the tube whose other end remained in the water. The second tube was then connected with the uninjured lung and the broken breast bone set. By means of the tubes the uninjured lung received its capacity of air, while the other, cut off by the volume of water, remained closed.

The boy lived throughout the night and the day following showed symptoms of improvement. The tubes were removed and replaced regularly, and Dr. Kenyon visited the small patient daily. The improvement continued, until a few days ago an examination showed that the broken ribs and collar bone were healing fast and that the injured lung was almost free of congestion. Then the tube was removed, and the child's recovery is now only a matter of days.

HAD CAROANSERINUSABMETU.

Ancient Skin Trouble Kept Columbia Man From a Degree.

Before a student can be graduated from Columbia college, in New York city, he must be able to swim at least 100 feet. Felix Metzger Rosenstock of the senior class cannot swim at all.

When Rosenstock found recently that he was in danger of missing his degree he called on Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the gymnasium, and explained that he had a serious skin disease which would be aggravated by contact with water in the university swimming pool.

"Bring a note from your doctor to that effect and I'll O. K. it," said Dr. Meylan.

A day or two ago Rosenstock brought this note, signed by a physician: "This is to certify that Felix Metzger Rosenstock is suffering from an exceedingly bad case of caroserinosisabmetu, and his condition will be aggravated if he goes near the water."

The name was new to Dr. Meylan, but he translated it with the help of a Latin dictionary—caro, flesh; anserinus, of the geese; ab metu, from fear—gooseflesh from fear.

Rosenstock was not excused from his swimming examination. He and four others failed to get their degrees because of caroserinosisabmetu.

von.

In Germany "von" implies nobility, and all persons who belong to the nobility prefix "von" to their names without any exception. Persons who do not belong to the nobility cannot have the right to put "von" before their names. A man who is knighted for some reason, however, has the same right to put "von" before his family name as a person of ancient nobility.

For instance, when Alexander Humboldt was knighted he became Alexander von Humboldt. All his descendants, male and female, take the prefix.

Young Girl a Heroine.

Rare presence of mind on the part of Doris Behrman, fourteen years old, saved the life of her father, Henry Behrman, of Boulder, Colo., when he was attacked and cornered by an infuriated bull. The girl heard her father's calls for help and, seizing a shovel, rained blow after blow on the animal's head until the bull became bewildered and fled.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES RAINIER PARK GUIDE

Tells How to Find Interesting Places in Great Wonderland.

Full directions regarding the best method of climbing Mount Rainier, which is surrounded by one of the largest glacial systems in the United States radiating from any single peak, are given in a circular entitled "General Information Regarding Mount Rainier National Park Season of 1913," just issued by the department of the interior.

Mount Rainier National park is situated in western Washington about 11.1 miles southeast of the city of Tacoma. It has an area of 207,360 acres and includes Mount Rainier and all its approaches. Surrounding the mountain are beautiful forests of fir and cedar, and in the natural parks below the snow line are luxuriant fields of wild flowers of all colors and descriptions. The park is under the control and supervision of the secretary of the interior.

Between and below the glaciers are numerous open slopes and valleys, which are covered with luxuriant growths of grasses, sedge and flowering plants. These parks are diversified by growths of alpine fir and hemlock and by many small lakes and running streams. They present a pleasing contrast to the snowfields and rugged peaks by which they are surrounded and are greatly admired by visitors.

Paradise valley is the most frequented of the many parks. The government road running through this park and for some distance beyond the Camp of the Clouds makes it easily accessible for tourists. Near Paradise valley and at the head waters of the Tahoma Fork is Indian Henry's Hunting Ground, so named from the circumstance that it was formerly the favorite resort of a small band of Klickitat Indians.

Grand park, between the main and west forks of White river, is one of the largest and most beautiful of these open tracts. At the altitude of 6,000 feet it is an almost level grassy plateau, the greater part of which is entirely without timber. Moraine park, between the Shuskin range and the Carbon glacier, is a small and very attractive mountain valley.

"HANDSOMER THAN CANNON."

Ex-Speaker Told He Is Better Looking Than Himself.

Joseph G. Cannon, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, was standing on the sidewalk in Pennsylvania avenue in Washington recently, talking with a friend, when an elderly, quick speaking man approached.

"Excuse me," said the elderly man, "but I've been watching you and wondering if I'd ever seen you before."

Mr. Cannon smiled in answer.

"Do you know," continued the elderly man, "I thought at first you were Uncle Joe Cannon."

"They say that Uncle Joe and Uncle Shelby Cullom both look like me," responded the ex-speaker.

"Well, I don't know about that," said the elderly man, "but I'll say this for you—you're a darn sight better looking than either of them."

CURIOUS NORTH SEA ISLAND.

Cliffe of Helgoland Were Largely Built by Man.

Helgoland, the tiny island in the north sea, which Germany proposes to turn into a great station for her airships, is one of the most curious islands in the world.

Its towering cliffs, for instance, are largely artificial. Some years ago there was grave fear that the island would soon be eaten away entirely by the waves from the southwest, but $5,000,000 has been spent on raising a massive cliff of granite on this exposed side.

On those parts of the coast where the red porous rock of the genuine cliffs has been too badly honeycombed by the sea hundreds of thousands of tons of cement have been used to strengthen the face.

STATE MOTORCYCLE PATROL.

Kansas Will Have Riders to Police Every County.

There will be 1,750 riders in the Kansas motorcycle patrol, according to plans completed recently. It is being organized along the lines of the anti-theft associations, and will be under the direction of Governor Hodges.

Kansas will be the first state to have a motorcycle patrol in every county. The members receive no pay. Each one must be a member in the Federation of American Motor Cyclists.

Trees and the Air.

According to a reliable computation, a single tree is able through its leaves to purify the air from the carbonic acid arising from the respiration of a considerable number of men, as many as a dozen or a score. The volume of carbonic acid exhaled by a human being in the course of twenty-four hours is estimated at a hundred gallons, and a single square yard of leaf surface, counting both the upper and under sides of the leaves, can decompose about a gallon of carbonic acid in a day.

WORLD'S GREATEST FORTRESS

Russian Government Building It in Gulf of Finland.

The construction of the greatest fortress in the world has been begun. It is to be the Peter the Great naval fortress to protect St. Petersburg and guard the approaches to the city.

In reality it will be a chain of island forts right across the gulf of Finland from Reval, a distance of 58 versts, or about 40.6 miles.

Schools to Teach Millinery.

The public schools of Gary, Ind., are going into the business of making husbands' burdens lighter. A course in millinery will be added to the curriculum so that girls may learn how to make their hats at low cost and give their future husbands less to complain about.

At Rest at Last.
In a recent long drawn trial in New York the defense introduced a miner as a witness and went into a detailed inquiry as to his exact whereabouts for the past ten years. It was most wearisome. For a day and a half the lawyers asked this man to tell his wanderings year by year. Finally they got down to 1911 and asked him:
"What did you do on May 16, 1911?"
"I went to Cobalt."
"How long did you remain there?"
"I have been there ever since."
Juror No. 9 rose in his place and said fervently:
"Thank heaven!"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

How, Indeed?
A little Brooklyn boy had been admonished by his mother not to wade in mud puddles. To offset the result of the natural boyish tendency in that direction, however, he was provided with rubbers. One day he appeared at the house with his rubbers in a sadly dirtied condition. His mother said, "Weren't you told not to walk in the mud?" He admitted such instruction had been given, but added, "How can rubbers keep the mud off your shoes if you don't go in the mud?"—New York Tribune.

The Black Cat at Sea.
About twenty years ago, when I was living in north China, the British squadron, then in far eastern waters, was steaming out of the port of Chefoo
when a little black cat fell overboard from H. M. S. Wanderer. At once the ship stopped, signaled to its consorts
"Cat overboard," and the entire squadron came to a standstill. A boat put off from the Wanderer and rescued puss, who was swimming for dear life after the ship. The officer who told me the story said the sailors would have been furious if the little cat had not been saved, for not only was she a great pet, but they firmly believed disaster would follow if a black cat was allowed to drown.—London Mail.

WORLDWIDE USE OF FINGER PRINTS

System Should Be Universal,
Says Argentine Expert.

NOT ONLY FOR CRIMINALS.

Dr. Vucetich, Who Perfected Modern System of Identification, Would Extend Its Use to Include Every Individual—Would Prove Invaluable in Many Cases, He Asserts.

Every large city should have a great central department of identification, not merely for criminals, but for every one of its inhabitants, in the opinion of Dr. Juan Vucetich, chief of the bureau of identification of the province of Buenos Aires and of the Argentine war department, who is now in this country.

Dr. Vucetich is the originator of the first complete system of finger print identification, and he asserts that it is his system, with modifications, which is in use throughout the world today. He says that even Bertillon, who applied anthropometry to criminal identification, has adopted his system in spite of the fact that Bertillon two years after Dr. Vucetich had successfully inaugurated his own system in the city of La Plata, Argentina, said that a system of finger print identification was impracticable.

Dr. Vucetich asserted that the American idea in regard to the system of identification was all wrong. We regard it as stamping us as criminals to have a complete identification of ourselves in existence, he said.

He pointed out that the description of every citizen of Buenos Aires was recorded on the government records and that in the office of the minister of war and the minister of the interior there were on file 2,000,000 identifications, which were used not necessarily for criminal, but for military and political purposes.

System of Identification.

"I invented my system of identification twenty-five years ago," said Dr. Vucetich in giving an outline of his life work. "At that time I was chief of the bureau of identification in La Plata, Argentina. It had been recommended to me that I study the various systems of identification in use and adopt the best. I discovered there was no system in existence but what was deficient. There arose instances to which none would respond. What interested me most was Bertillon's anthropometric system. I found it was not sufficient. At that time a magazine, the French Revue Scientifique, fell into my hands. That was on the 2d of May, 1891. It contained an article on 'Papillary Lines in the Hands,' in which the author went on to show that these varied in different persons. The article referred to some studies Mr. Galton of London had made, which I believe went to prove that the differences were due to heredity. Galton drew his conclusions from the use of only the finger and the thumb. I got the idea of applying the test to all the fingers of the hand.

"I had many criminals at my disposition. I started in using printer's ink to get my impressions. Here," added Dr. Vucetich, producing a big card, "is the first finger print identification made in the world. You see it is dated 'Sept. 1, 1891.' The first man so identified was a prisoner in La Plata named Francisco Carcelulo. I kept up my experimenting until in 1897 I was able to announce that I had perfected my system. Previous to that time, however, my finger prints had thousands of times proved their efficiency.

First to Adopt It.

"As early as 1903 I was in communication with Lombroso, the celebrated Italian criminologist, and he made reference to my system in some of his papers. The Argentine government was the first to adopt my system, and its example was almost immediately followed by the other South American countries. Since then almost every country in the world has adopted it in some form or other.

"I am surprised and somewhat disappointed to find here that identification seems to be regarded altogether from the point of view of the criminal—that is to say, an ordinary man appears to think it a disgrace to be on record on an identification card. If your people could realize what an assistance this has been to us in Buenos Aires in other than criminal matters, you would clamor for it. I understand that your morgues are sometimes filled with unidentified dead, and that not infrequently bodies brought there are never identified, but are buried in a potter's field. Perhaps more than one of those mysterious disappearances, which I understand are frequently chronicled in your newspapers, might be explained if you had on hand the means of identification we possess in Buenos Aires."

Don't miss it for 25c. ZEMO is a clean, antiseptic solution, applied on the skin. No ointment or paste.

"But three applications of your highly-valued medicine had the desired effect for eczema and an awful itching." Sol Landau, c-o Sol Landau Cloak and Suit Co., St. Louis, Mo.

IF WE DENY HIM HE WILL DENY US

Repudiation of Christ Is a Growing Sin, Says Pastor Russell.

Faith Is Waning—Learned and Rich Already Faithless—The Common People Rapidly Becoming So—The Rich Substitute Pleasures—The Poor Have No Substitute—Together the Ingratitude Means Anarchy—Old Creeds No Longer Endurable—The Gospel of the Kingdom the Only Hope.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Dallas, Texas, June 8.—Pastor C. T. Russell spoke twice here today. We report his discourse to Bible Students. The text was: "If we deny Him, He will deny us." (2 Timothy 2:12.) He said:

Great riches have come to the world within the past sixty years, especially to Europe and America. Instead of the hearts of the prosperous uplifting with gratitude to God, the tendency seems to be away from God, and especially away from His Son and from all thought of a share in His redemptive work, or a need for it. Business activities and prosperity have dwarfed the prospects of Messiah's Kingdom.

But with the growth of wealth have come sinner and more reasonable views of justice. The folly of accumulating money for others to squander has impressed itself. The rich of Europe and America are giving themselves more leisure in the prime of life, leaving opportunity for others to take their places in the commercial world.

None could wish that our great business men become sluggards. Our wish should be that their maturer years might be gratefully devoted to the promotion of philanthropic plans for the aid of the lower classes. Doubtless millions of money would flow into such hands for disbursement along broadly economic lines.

There is room for such benevolences in every land, but especially in countries under British and American control, where commercialism absorbs some of the ablest talent, leaving comparatively little opportunity for the less progressive. All over Great Britain and in nearly every state of the Union there are splendid opportunities for such work. Then there are the teeming millions of India, existing under conditions not fit for a good dog.

These are our brethren of the one blood, as St. Paul declares. None dispute the necessities of the case. The sympathetic are appalled at the money and labor necessary to cope with conditions. Heaven looks with interest to note how our showers of blessings affect our hearts.

The Responsibility of Knowledge and Riches.

Amongst the rich are many noble Christian hearts in perplexity as to what to do with their wealth. The Pastor's suggestions are based upon his observations in all parts of the world. He thinks that the Lord is pouring out wealth upon professed Christians to test them. From this viewpoint, the world is under Divine inspection, and God seems to be warning the prosperous that their present course is not wise.

Let us make no mistake, said the speaker earnestly. Pleasure-seeking is the trend of the whole world. God is being forgotten by both poor and rich, and the end of the lane is near—"a time of trouble such as never was."

With the awakening of true Christianity has come a substitute—Churchianity. For years Christian faith has been declining, under the attacks of Higher Criticism and Evolution, and the neutralizing influence of love of pleasure. One Bible doctrine after another has been dropped, while Churchianity has come forward as a form of godliness, but destitute of power.

Apparently the modern attempt to ignore doctrine has been a great mistake, which is now bearing its legitimate fruit in that very few Christians know definitely what the Bible teaches. The effect on the rising generation is disastrous. Seeing the doctrines of all denominations discredited, they perceive that the Bible is classed with the creeds. This is the alarming mistake. The sooner we are rid of our creeds, the better. But if we lose the Bible, are we not losing the very foundation of faith and hope beyond the present?

The Loss Is Greater to Some.

The average man needs the Gospel Message of hope in order to make the trials and sorrows of life endurable. In order that these may so operate as to serve as lessons in character-development and produce a desire to be acceptable to his Creator, and to attain everlasting life.

The Pastor trusts that ministers may be encouraged to proclaim the Gospel of Hope beyond the grave—for the saintly a hope of joint-heirship with Christ in His Kingdom, and for the remainder of mankind a hope that they will receive only just punishment for sins proportionate to their wilfulness, and that the Lord's gracious arrangement is to grant all an opportunity of restoration to human perfection in a world-wide Eden—brought about by the Messianic Kingdom, which is even at the door.

The Demure Thing.

BEAUTIFUL JUNE BRIDE.

Society Interested in Marriage of Miss McCormick to Mr. McAdoo.

Francis H. McAdoo, son of the secretary of the treasury, claims one of the most beautiful of the June brides in Miss Ethel McCormick.

Brooklandwood, the magnificent summer home of the bride's mother, the scene of the wedding, is considered one of the most handsome estates in Maryland, and is situated about twenty miles from the city of Baltimore.

Miss McCormick is the daughter of Mrs. Isaac E. Emerson and stepdaughter of Captain Emerson, the multimillionaire patent medicine manufacturer, who, at the age of sixty-five, divorced the wife of his youth and was married to a devoted friend of his daughter. Captain Emerson is the father of Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt.

This wedding is of much interest in society circles both in New York, where Mr. McAdoo is a favorite, and in the national capital, where he had spent much time since his father became secretary of the treasury in President Wilson's cabinet.

FRECKLE-FACE

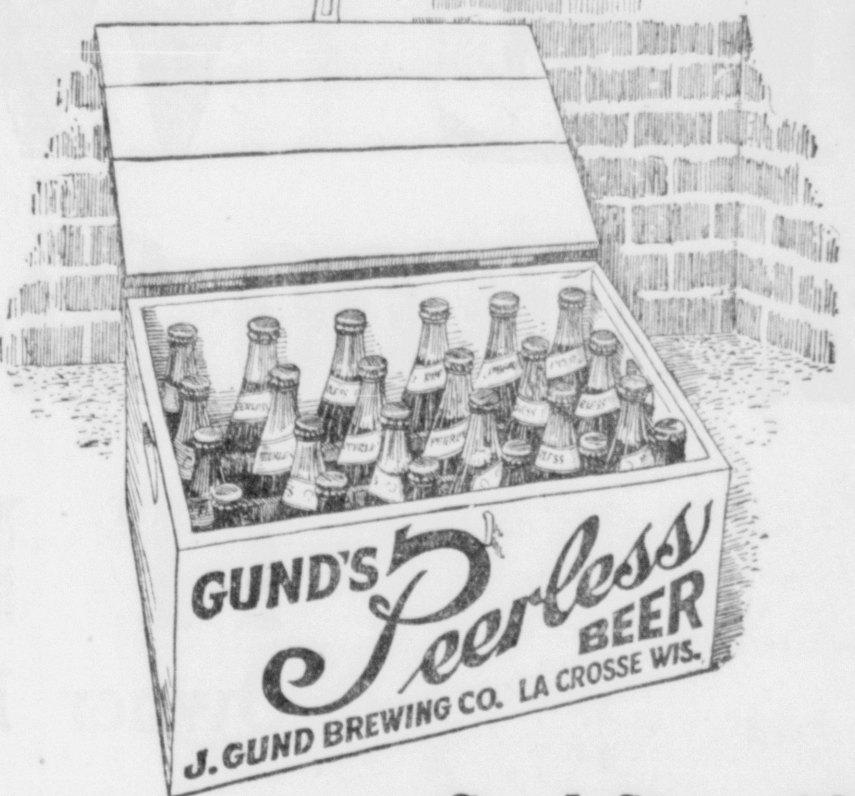

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots, How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

THE TESTIMONY ON THURSDAY

T. E. Latemer, State Secretary of the Socialist Party, Relates Crosby Experience

After the recess taken at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, Teodor Sjogren resumed the stand. He related how he was made to step in the automobile at Crosby and was driven along the Deerwood road to Brainerd. The occupants fired guns and shots flew past his ear.

The party arrived at Brainerd and went to the Spalding hotel and seated in one of the private dining rooms enjoyed a good supper. This was about eleven o'clock at night.
Sjogren drank a couple of bottles of beer.

Then all the defendants left him except Payne.

Payne and Sjogren walked to the City hotel and sat around a while and talked with several people.
They went to the Depot lunch room
and Sjogren and Payne had a lunch, Sjogren paying for it. Then they went to the depot and waited for the four o'clock passenger train.

Payne told Sjogren to buy a ticket for Duluth. He did so. Payne accompanied Sjogren to Deerwood and there left him. As the train stopped at Deerwood Sjogren talked with some of his friends from the platform of the train.

From Deerwood Sjogren continued on his way to Duluth and then on to Michigan. This completed the recital of Sjogren.

The two friends who had been referred to by Sjogren in parts of this recital testified how he had been taken in the car.

T. E. Latemer, of Minneapolis, state secretary of the socialist party took the stand and said the socialist party was not interested in the case, but that he was concerned in it only

TWO CENT FARE COMING SOON

Special to Dispatch:

St. Paul, Minn., June 20—At a meeting of the state railroad warehouse commission this morning railroad presidents and attorneys agreed to establish as soon as possible the state rates held valid by the supreme court of the United States, thus ending all talk of further litigation on the part of the roads. The rates include the two cent passenger fare law and the commodity and merchandise freight schedules.

as a private citizen. The day before the alleged kidnapping, said Mr. Latemer, Mr. Newman had made threats to him and said it was a good thing that Latemer and wife were to leave town.

The City hotel clerk, Guy Peters, testified that Payne and Sjogren had gone on the four o'clock morning train.

The state is expected to have one more witness Friday morning and then the defense will present its side of the case. It is believed the case will be finished by Saturday evening.

This morning in district court Mrs.
T. E. Latemer of Minneapolis, and Adam Saari, of Crosby testified. That concluded the state's case.

Peter L. Newman then took the stand and gave his version of the case, a review of whose testimony will be printed tomorrow.

DEERWOOD GETS READY FOR PICNIC

Saturday, June 21, Brainerd Shop Picnic, Will be a Gala Event in History of Town

THE BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS

Northern Pacific Railway has Many Ore Cars on Sidings Ready for Use Shipping

Deerwood, Minn., June 20—Deer-wood is making commendable efforts to entertain the large crowd of Northern Pacific railway shop picnickers who will visit its hospitable town on Saturday, June 21. A large pavilion has been built in the park, Peter Brand being the contractor.

Citizens are working on the ball park so as to get these grounds in good shape for the shop picnic baseball game. The Brainerd City band will accompany the excursionists who will come on two trains. In addition there will be many other Brainerd people who will take the regular trains to enjoy the picnic at Deerwood.

Sam Redin passed away, death being due to cancer of the liver. The funeral was largely attended.

Charles Oberg has bought a Westcott automobile.

At the siding in the gravel pit west of Deerwood are 45 ore cars and on the Oreland branch of the Cuyuna Northern railway are 60 cars, which shows that the Northern Pacific railway is providing for the prompt shipment of ore.

Peter Brand has the contract to erect the $6,000 bungalow for John H. Hill and one of about equal value for Primus D. Kreitter.

B. Magoffin, Jr., is having his residence enlarged. Contractor Peter Brand doing the work.

Cuyler Adams and William A.
White have building operations in progress on their property. Judge Vine's house is being remodeled.

Carpenters are in demand in Deer-wood.

A heavy rain almost deluged the streets on Wednesday.

Many Deerwood people attended the Sunday school convention in Brainerd and all report a most profitable time. The addresses delivered were most helpful.

Charles G. Osterlund has offered a special prize to ladies and gentlemen visiting his drug store on shop picnic day.

STOCK TRAIN APPRECIATED

Value of the Northern Pacific Demonstration Train to Dairying Interests Unquestionable

The value of the Northern Pacific stock train to the dairying interests of this section of the state, (meaning northern Minnesota) is unquestionable, according to L.B. Arnold of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad who has returned from Bemidji where he left the train after visiting Cromwell, McGregor, Pine River, Backus, LaPorte and Guthrie, says the Duluth
News Tribune.

"The train was thoroughly appreciated by the farmers in the vicinity of the towns visited," said Mr. Arnold, "and I believe that the talks will bring excellent results in more scientific methods of breeding and rotation of crops. At Bemidji the train was in competition with the editorial association and Buffalo Bill's show but there was a good attendance, nevertheless.

"The agricultural men on the train were surprised at Backus where they found a valuable Guernsey bull, a relative of the bull carried on the train, that was offered for $100 apparently without takers. The bull is easily worth $250. I hope that the trip will be repeated next year and feel sure that splendid progress will be noticed by the men from the state college."

COMMUNICATION

Brainerd, Minn., June 18, 1913.
On behalf of Pine City Lodge 116, Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Shipbuilders of America, affiliated with the Central Trades and Labor council, we wish to protest against the action of those members of the city council whose vote refused the use of the streets to the committee delegated by the assembly for that purpose.

We feel that the council favored the Park board without even taking a second thought of the welfare of labor in this city.

We are trying to have a hall that will be a credit to the city of Brainerd and also the laboring class, but I guess we will have to get "Max Zimmerman" to secure the streets for us.

We hope in the future the council will be a little bit more considerate of our welfare as we have made labor worth about $121,000 in our past month in this city.

MRS. M. SMADES PASSES AWAY

Sister of John C. Barber, Died of Paralysis Early Friday Morning at Hospital

Mrs. Marion Smades, aged 76, of Minneapolis, sister of John C. Barber, president of the Standard Car Truck Co., of Chicago, died this morning at 2:30 at a local hospital, death being due to paralysis.

She had been the guest of her brother, Mr. Barber, at his summer home on Nokay lake.

She leaves three sons, Myron and Joseph Smades of Minneapolis, and John Smades of Springfield, Mo., and a daughter, Miss Nellie Smades, of Minneapolis.

She was a kindly lady, admired for her gentle ways and she made many friends in Brainerd. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church. Solicitous of everyone's welfare, she took a keen interest in the daily life of her family and brother. She appeared to be in the best of health when she stepped from the train but a short time ago and was taken in her brother's auto to his charming summer home at Nokay lake. The many improvements he had made there greatly interested her and it was believed that the sojourn at the lake would greatly benefit her.

She was suddenly stricken with apoplexy and was then removed to a local hospital where she lingered for days, her true Christian spirit meeting the pain and suffering with fortitude. The end came softly and peacefully.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
J. C. Barber extend their deepest sympathy to them in their hour of bereavement.

The remains will be conveyed to Minneapolis. The funeral will be private, taking place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from 715 Sixth avenue north, Minneapolis.

The article reads:

The wedding of Miss Lucile Ingram and F. J. Cullen will take place Tuesday morning, June 17, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C.
J. Ingram, 1208 Thirteenth avenue.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served for 20 guests. The young people will take a two weeks' honeymoon trip to the coast.

In honor of Miss Ingram, Mrs. J.
Goldstein will entertain at a theatre party Saturday afternoon. Sixteen have been invited to the event, which will be concluded with tea at Davenport's.

Miss Gladys DeReemer entertained at a pretty affair Thursday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs.
T. E. Hoxsey, 703 Cleveland avenue.
The affair was a "heart" party and was in honor of Miss Ingram. Hearts were played during the afternoon, honors going to Mrs. Richard Matlack and Miss Ruth Fisher.

The guests were: Miss Lucile Ingram, Miss Sylvia Mudgett, Mrs. J.

BASEBALL NEWS

St. Joe-Deckerts of Minneapolis Play
Brainerd Here on Sunday,
June 22

The St. Joe-Deckerts, of Minneapolis, one of the fastest teams in professional ball circles, are scheduled to play Brainerd at the Koering grounds on Sunday afternoon, June 22.

The St. Joe-Deckerts, by the way, are one of the few teams in independent baseball who own their own grounds. When they play at Brainerd Sunday, the Ballards will be using their grounds in Minneapolis.

Brainerd will be strengthened for Sunday's game. Ed. Lauerman, one of the fastest first basemen in this section and who starred in that position with Little Falls last year, will be on the initial bag.

Manager Tom Considine has been negotiating with Clarence Lovdahl, of Crosby, to play left field. Lovdahl is a most consistent hitter and in last year's Central Minnesota baseball association play scored up high in the percentages. He is a fine fielder and lets nothing go by in his part of the garden.

Sig Sheffield, who made such a hit with the fans Sunday, June 8, will be in center field. Sheffield has a speedy gait and covers territory well and it's over the fence with the ball whenever he hits it on the nose.

As far as known, Sunday's lineup will be Bud Roderick catcher, Cook pitcher, Lauerman first base, Larson second base, Erickson shortstop, Templeton third base, Lovdahl left field,
Sheffield center field, Bush right field.
The Drummers play the M. & I.
clerks Saturday afternoon at the Koering grounds.

E. J. Quinn, of Minneapolis, said everybody down there is just wild about the playing of his fellow drummers in Brainerd. He said Higgins's slide for home plate will go down in history linked with the name of Kelly.

STARES DEATH IN FACE FOR HOURS

Ed. Clark Buried 2 1/2 Hours in Sewer Trench at Crosby and is Rescued by

50 MEN SHOVELING HIM OUT

Hale's Second Addition to Crosby is Platted to the Northeast Corner of Village

Crosby, Minn., June 20—Buried in a caving sewer trench Ed. Clark was imprisoned 2 1/2 hours while 50 men worked with feverish haste to rescue him. Shovelers worked in detachments and when the man was eventually pulled out he was paralyzed from his waist down. He was taken to a hospital where it is believed he will recover.

At a meeting of the village council last night the plat of Hale's second addition to Crosby was accepted. The new addition is situated at the northeast corner of the town, contains 96 lots and extends the platted portion of the village from Sixth street north to the county road.

Additional cement walks are to be constructed in Crosby, Trustees Humphrey, Gallagher and Levkovitz having appointed a committee to investigate and report.

Maguire Brothers, the Lovdahl Drug company, P. Frenette and W. J. Sullivan have been granted licenses by the council to sell cigarettes.

The sum of $100 has been appropriated by the council for the purpose of improving the streets and to otherwise make ready for the Fourth of July celebration.

H. J. Kruse has bought a four passenger Cadillac car.

Chester D. Tripp is expected in Crosby on or about June 25.

Peder Larson has the contract excavating the basement for Capt. Anderson's new home.

R. R. Hudson has built a plumbing shop on First street south.

The Empress theatre is being decorated.

Mr. Schultz, formerly of Brainerd, is building a garage.

Members of the Crosby Moose lodge together with their wives, children and friends had a picnic on Ministers Point. A fine program was enjoyed.

Dr. R. J. Sewall will soon erect a large hospital.

A Worker Appreciates This

Wm. Morris, a resident of Florence, Oregon, says: "For the last fourteen years my kidneys and bladder incapacitated me for all work. About eight months ago I began using Foley Kidney Pills, and they have done what other medicine failed to do, and now I am feeling fine. I recommend Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by H. P. Honeybees.

In the year 1638 the first hive bees or honeybees were brought across the ocean to this country. They were black bees, sometimes called brown bees and also German bees. These gradually spread over the land, aided by later importations to different parts, and held undivided possession for more than 200 years, when in 1850 the first Italians were introduced. Since then a number of other races have come, but the great majority of bees owned in this country are at the present time Italians or a cross between Italians and blacks, with perhaps a few of un-mixed black blood.—Country Gentleman.

Envious. "There's a sad case," said Mrs. Jones as she laid the paper on her knees and wiped her spectacles—"a bride struck dumb after leaving the altar, and by last accounts she hadn't recovered her speech."

"It's the way of the world, my dear," said old Mr. Jones with a sigh. "It's the way of the world. Some men have all the luck."—London Telegraph.

A substitute in medicine is never for the benefit of the buyer. Never be persuaded to buy anything but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds, for children or for grown persons. It is prompt and effective. It comes in a yellow package, with beehive on carton. It contains no opiates. Take no substitute for Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. For sale by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. mwf

LOERCH ITEMS

Attention everybody! There will be a basket social and dance at Livingston's place, east of the Aspholm farm, on Friday night, June 20th. The social will be given for the Loerch ball team. Good coffee will be served for your lunches. Everybody is welcome to come and we will guarantee you a good time.

Erwin Pederson called at Aspholm's Monday evening.

Mr. Miller and family were in Brainerd Friday.

The party given by Mrs. Holms and Barbara Friedsam last Wednesday evening, was attended by a few friends who report a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Aspholm, Tom Pederson and family, spent Sunday fishing.

Mr. Sather took a live hog to Brainerd last Monday, the hog's weight being 480 pounds. That goes to show how the Loerch farmers can raise stock.

Mrs. Clark was in Brainerd last Friday.

The drills took half a day lay-off last Friday to see the circus.

Mrs. Holms called at Aspholm's Tuesday.

Chas. Peterson and Frank Cooley called at Aspholm's Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Leekschmidt and family were in Brainerd last Friday.

Now remember, Friday night, the big time at Livingston's. Be sure to come.

No Substitute Could do This

No inferior substitute, but only the genuine Foley Kidney Pills could have rid J. F. Wallich, Bartlett, Neb., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache, and the pain would run up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work and I am now entirely rid of kidney trouble." For sale by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. mwf Where Metal is Coined.

There are four government mints—viz, at Philadelphia, called the parent mint, and branches at New Orleans, San Francisco and Denver. The minor coins, one and five cent pieces, are coined at the Philadelphia mint only, which also coins gold and silver. The denominations of the coins, their fineness and value are established by congress, and the operations of the mints, what particular coins they shall issue, etc., are regulated by the director of the mint at Washington. The paper money issued by the government is designed and printed by the bureau of engraving at Washington.—St. Louis Times.

SAVES BOY'S LIFE BY TUBE MIRACLE

New York Surgeon Performs Astounding Feat.

CASE ENTIRELY HOPELESS.

Dr. Kenyon, Lecturer at Fordham Hospital, New York City, by Means of Ingenious Arrangement Preserves Child's Punctured Lung by Sending Air Into Uninjured Member Alone.

By a device so unusual that it seemed to the surgeons and physicians who witnessed it more like a feat of legerdemain than one of the most modern operations, Dr. James H. Kenyon of New York City sustained the life of a supposedly fatally injured boy for two weeks and brought him through to what is now predicted will be a complete recovery.

The child is John Burkert, seven years old, of 597 East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, New York City. A fortnight ago the boy was run down by a team and was taken to Fordham hospital in a dying condition.

The house surgeon who examined the small patient saw that he was in need of instant attention and hurried him into an operating room for examination.

Only Few Minutes to Live.

A glance was sufficient to tell them that the case, from their point of view, was hopeless. The wheels of the heavy wagon had crushed in the little fellow's breast, breaking the collar bone and driving a fractured rib in at such an angle that it had punctured one of the lungs. The surgeons busied themselves doing the few things that suggested, but agreed that within ten minutes the boy would be dead.

Just then a group of surgeons and physicians who had been attending a clinic at Fordham university passed through the hospital, and Dr. Kenyon, who had been giving the lecture, was among them. He entered the operating room, looked at the boy and then turned to the surgeons.

"He'll not die," he remarked coolly. "Bring me a quart bottle and some glass tubes."

As attendants ran to carry out the order and the astonished surgeons grouped themselves around Dr. Kenyon slipped into a surgeon's apron and gloves. As soon as the appliances arrived he filled the bottle half full of water and inserted one of the glass tubes in such a fashion that its lower end remained in the water.

One Lung Does Work.

Dr. Kenyon made an incision between the fourth and fifth ribs, lifting the broken rib out of the lung in which it was imbedded and inserting the tube whose other end remained in the water. The second tube was then connected with the uninjured lung and the broken breast bone set. By means of the tubes the uninjured lung received its capacity of air, while the other, cut off by the volume of water, remained closed.

The boy lived throughout the night and the day following showed symptoms of improvement. The tubes were removed and replaced regularly, and Dr. Kenyon visited the small patient daily. The improvement continued, until a few days ago an examination showed that the broken ribs and collar bone were healing fast and that the injured lung was almost free of congestion. Then the tube was removed, and the child's recovery is now only a matter of days.

HAD CAROANSERINUSABMETU.

Ancient Skin Trouble Kept Columbia Man From a Degree.

Before a student can be graduated from Columbia college, in New York City, he must be able to swim at least 100 feet. Felix Metzger Rosenstock of the senior class cannot swim at all.

When Rosenstock found recently that he was in danger of missing his degree he called on Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the gymnasium, and explained that he had a serious skin disease which would be aggravated by contact with water in the university swimming pool.

"Bring a note from your doctor to that effect and I'll O. K. it," said Dr. Meylan.

A day or two ago Rosenstock brought this note, signed by a physician:

This is to certify that Felix Metzger Rosenstock is suffering from an exceedingly bad case of caroanserinusabmetu, and his condition will be aggravated if he goes near the water.

The name was new to Dr. Meylan, but he translated it with the help of a Latin dictionary—caro, flesh; anserinus, of the geese; ab metu, from fear—geese-flesh from fear.

Rosenstock was not excused from his swimming examination. He and four others failed to get their degrees because of caroanserinusabmetu.

von.

In Germany "von" implies nobility, and all persons who belong to the nobility prefix "von" to their names without any exception. Persons who do not belong to the nobility cannot have the right to put "von" before their names. A man who is knighted for some reason, however, has the same right to put "von" before his family name as a person of ancient nobility. For instance, when Alexander Humboldt was knighted he became Alexander von Humboldt. All his descendants, male and female, take the prefix.

Young Girl a Heroine.

Rare presence of mind on the part of Doris Behrman, fourteen years old, saved the life of her father, Henry Behrman, of Boulder, Colo., when he was attacked and cornered by an infuriated bull. The girl heard her father's calls for help and, seizing a shovel, rained blow after blow on the animal's head until the bull became bewildered and fled.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES RAINIER PARK GUIDE.

Tells How to Find Interesting Places in Great Wonderland.

Full directions regarding the best method of climbing Mount Rainier, which is surrounded by one of the largest glacial systems in the United States radiating from any single peak, are given in a circular entitled "General Information Regarding Mount Rainier National Park Season of 1913," just issued by the department of the interior.

Mount Rainier National park is situated in western Washington about 51.1 miles southeast of the city of Tacoma. It has an area of 207,360 acres and includes Mount Rainier and all its approaches. Surrounding the mountain are beautiful forests of fir and cedar, and in the natural parks below the snow line are luxuriant fields of wild flowers of all colors and descriptions. The park is under the control and supervision of the secretary of the interior.

Between and below the glaciers are numerous open slopes and valleys, which are covered with luxuriant growths of grasses, sedge and flowering plants. These parks are diversified by growths of alpine fir and hemlock and by many small lakes and running streams. They present a pleasing contrast to the snowfields and rugged peaks by which they are surrounded and are greatly admired by visitors.

Paradise valley is the most frequented of the many parks. The government road running through this park and for some distance beyond the Camp of the Clouds makes it easily accessible for tourists. Near Paradise valley and at the head waters of the Tahoma Fork is Indian Henry's Hunting Ground, so named from the circumstance that it was formerly the favorite resort of a small band of Klickitat Indians.

Grand park, between the main and west forks of White river, is one of the largest and most beautiful of these open tracts. At the altitude of 6,000 feet it is an almost level grassy plateau, the greater part of which is entirely without timber. Moraine park, between the Suikun range and the Carbon glacier, is a small and very attractive mountain valley.

"HANDSOMER THAN CANNON."

Ex-Speaker Told He Is Better Looking Than Himself.

Joseph G. Cannon, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, was standing on the sidewalk in Pennsylvania avenue in Washington recently, talking with a friend, when an elderly, quick speaking man approached.

"Excuse me," said the elderly man, "but I've been watching you and wondering if I'd ever seen you before."

Mr. Cannon smiled in answer.

"Do you know," continued the elderly man, "I thought at first you were Uncle Joe Cannon."

"They say that Uncle Joe and Uncle Shelby Cullom both look like me," responded the ex-speaker.

"Well, I don't know about that," said the elderly man, "but I'll say this for you—you're a darn sight better looking than either of them."

CURIOUS NORTH SEA ISLAND.

Cliffs of Helgoland Were Largely Built by Man.

Helgoland, the tiny island in the north sea, which Germany proposes to turn into a great station for her airships, is one of the most curious islands in the world.

Its towering cliffs, for instance, are largely artificial. Some years ago there was grave fear that the island would soon be eaten away entirely by the waves from the southwest, but $5,000,000 has been spent on raising a massive cliff of granite on this exposed side.

On those parts of the coast where the red porous rock of the genuine cliffs has been too badly honeycombed by the seas hundreds of thousands of tons of cement have been used to strengthen the face.

STATE MOTORCYCLE PATROL.

Kansas Will Have Riders to Police Every County.

There will be 1,750 riders in the Kansas motorcycle patrol, according to plans completed recently. It is being organized along the lines of the anti-horse thief associations, and will be under the direction of Governor Hodges.

Kansas will be the first state to have a motorcycle patrol in every county. The members receive no pay. Each one must be a member in the Federation of American Motor Cyclists.

Trees and the Air.

According to a reliable computation, a single tree is able through its leaves to purify the air from the carbonic acid arising from the respiration of a considerable number of men, as many as a dozen or a score. The volume of carbonic acid exhaled by a human being in the course of twenty-four hours is estimated at a hundred gallons, and a single square yard of leaf surface, counting both the upper and under sides of the leaves, can decompose about a gallon of carbonic acid in a day.

WORLD'S GREATEST FORTRESS

Russian Government Building It in Gulf of Finland.

The construction of the greatest fortress in the world has been begun. It is to be the Peter the Great naval fortress to protect St. Petersburg and guard the approaches to the city.

In reality it will be a chain of island forts strung across the gulf of Finland from Reval, a distance of 58 versts, or about 40.6 miles.

Schools to Teach Millinery.

The public schools of Gary, Ind., are going into the business of making husbands' burdens lighter. A course in millinery will be added to the curriculum so that girls may learn how to make their hats at low cost and give their future husbands less to complain about.

At Rest at Last.
In a recent long drawn trial in New York the defense introduced a miner as a witness and went into a detailed inquiry as to his exact whereabouts for the past ten years. It was most wearisome. For a day and a half the lawyers asked this man to tell his wanderings year by year. Finally they got down to 1911 and asked him:
"What did you do on May 16, 1911?"
"I went to Cobalt."
"How long did you remain there?"
"I have been there ever since."
Juror No. 9 rose in his place and said fervently:
"Thank heaven!"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

How, indeed?
A little Brooklyn boy had been admonished by his mother not to wade in mud puddles. To offset the result of the natural boyish tendency in that direction, however, he was provided with rubbers. One day he appeared at the house with his rubbers in a sadly dirtied condition. His mother said, "Weren't you told not to walk in the mud?" He admitted such instruction had been given, but added, "How can rubbers keep the mud off your shoes if you don't go in the mud?"—New York Tribune.
